Genoua, Jan. 31,

YEsterday morning arrived here the Kent, Lester Saunders Master, from Newfoundland, the Edward and John from Hamburg, and the Succes, from London; they came under the Convoy of the Newcastle and Reserve Frigats, which are gone by for Legborn.

Ratisbonne, Feb. 8. A Memorial having been presented to the Dyet, made up of 14 Articles, containing the particulars in which the French have contravened the Peace, the States have had several Debates thereupon, and have resolved to appoint Deputies to confer with the French Minister here, and if those Conferences have not the desired success, then to send an Ambassador to France. Which resolution has been sent to the Emperor for his approbation.

Copenhagen Feb. 6. The Swedish Ambassador, the Sieur Guldenstern, is come to Lundun, and is in few days expected here, to Conduct the new Queen of Sueden to Malmoe, or some other place in Schonen. Count Anthony of Oldenburg is going to marry with the young Princess of Tarante, Cousin Germin to the Queen.

Hamburg, Feb. 16. The 8th instant dyed the Princess Elizabeth, Sister to the Elector Palatine, Abbess of Herford, the young Princess of Anhalt succeeding her. The Bishop of Munster has appointed a general Review of his forces near Coesfeldt, with what Design we know not. We have an account, That the Dauphine's is arrived at Ausburg, in her way to France.

Hamburg, Feb. 20. The Elector of Brandenburg has finally been prevailed upon to draw his Troops out of the Dutchy of Mecklenburg, and thereupon the Duke of Zell has likewise recalled his. The Swedes are expecting that Stade will be delivered to them in very few days, but they are like to find the place very bare, for the Duke of Zell is taking away all the Cannon, &c. The French pretend that the late Duke of Hanouer did not make good the Conditions on account of which he received the Subsidies from them, and demand satisfaction of the Bishop of Osnabrug, now Duke of Hanouer. From Denmark they write as if there were some disturbances in Sueden, and that the King had caused his Forces that were in Schonen to march towards Stockholm, of which we must expect to hear farther.

Cologne, Feb. 6. The Count d' Aachinto the Spanish Envoy, who came hither some days since, has not as yet had his Audience of the Elector. The States of this Archbishoprick have granted his Electoral Highness the Sum of 100 thousand Crowns to be disposed of as he thinks fit. Our Letters from Metz of the second instant tell us, That great quantities of Ammunition were brought thither from Verdun and other places, and laid up in the Magazines there, that there was an intention of adding some new Fortifications to that place, and that Monsieur de Louvoy was expected there to confer with some of the most eminent Engeniers about it. From Prague they write, that in the County of Glotz in Bohemia both Gold and Silver Mines had been discovered.

Cologne, Feb. 19. The 7th the Count d' Archinto had Audience of the Elector, and since he has been in frequent Conferences with his Ministers. We are told that Monsieur Sourdis, who Commands the French Troops in the Country of Cleves, has received Orders to quit Wesel so soon as the Arrears of Contributions are paid, and that thereupon the States of that Country had given him Bills of Exchange for 130 thousand Crowns, payable at Paris, and for 40 thousand at Amsterdam, a Sum which will very much impoverish that Country. Monsieur Spaen, Lieutenant General of the Elector of Brandenburgs Forces, was expected at Wesel the 7th instant.

Brussels, Feb. 23. Yesterday Monsieur Mombrun came hither, and in the Afternoon had Audience of his Excellency, whose Orders he demanded for the delivery of Charlemont, which his Excellency told him he should have, and assured him, That the King of Spain, as he desired nothing more then that the Peace established between the two Crowns might be every day more and more Confirmed, so he would always be very punctual on his part to do all things that might tend thereunto, and particularly would faithfully perform whatever was stipulated by the Treaty of Peace. His Excellency added, That the March of the French Troops made some of the Provinces uneasie, fearing they intended to come and Quarter upon them, and therefore desired that they might remove farther from their Borders, which Monsieur Mombrun assured his Excellency they should do, and that the Most Christian King will strictly observe the Peace, and that it will not be his Fault if the differences about the Limits be not speedily adjusted. He further told his Excellency, That the King would be at Valenciennes the 15th of May next, and that he intends to pass part of the Summer in Visiting his new Conquests. This morning Monsieur Mombrun, who the last night sent an Express to the Mareschal d' Humieres, to acquaint him with what he had done here, parted again for Namur, having with him a Party of 20 Horse, who came with him as his Guard; to morrow he will be at Dinant and from thence will go, on Monday, with the greatest part of the Garison there, to take Possession of Charlemont. The Works of Dinant are all ruined, but we do not yet hear when the French will evacuate it. The French work hard on the Fortifications they are making at Mabeuge, of which the Count de Montal, late Governor of Charleroy, has the Government, which argues they design to make that a very important place.
